ALLOW ME TO INTRODUCE MYSELF

Usman Maqsood
Founder & CEO

How it all started?

After completing my graduation degree in Fashion Design back in 2002, i have always wanted to setup an online platform by looking at the increasing demand of e-commerce and to use the power of internet. I started on with few projects but faced failures one after another, but didn't quit and kept moving forward.

Finally in the Year 2013, i designed VecFashion and officially launched it in early 2014, i actually did a SWAT analysis and it concluded that i have a good eye on fashion and i also have a passion to create Apparel Templates using Adobe Illustrator.

It was started as a hobby where i wanted to bring my ideas online using my skills of creating fashion templates. Using that strength i started adding some well illustrated cads on website for free and saw that i was getting a good response which gave me fuel to keep doing it.

With passage of time and upon requests, i kept adding more services to it, as listed below. It is no longer a one man show and now we have a small team of passionate illustrators, always hungry for work. Due to the extensive industry experience, we are also giving manufacturing services and mainly exporting to USA.

My aim is to turn this website into the most useful website on the internet, by which every fashion designer or clothing brand can make a good use of it.
